

Gorgas Home

If what many authorities say about what makes a mansion a heritage home is true, Gorgas Home in Tuscaloosa is completely ready for your worthwhile visit.

Gorgas ranks high in the ingredients: age (at least 100 years old), maintenance, famous occupants, impressive furnishings, convenient location and many imitations.

Built in 1829, this home is old enough to be mature and maintained to perfection. Gorgas was the first permanent home built on the University of Alabama campus and the only building at the Capstone to survive the Union Army plunderings of 1865.

Two generations, one of them the "Conqueror of Yellow Fever," made this house their home. General Josiah Gorgas was chief of ordnance for the Confederate Army. His sword and many other War Between the States weapons are shown in the home's Museum Room.

General William Crawford Gorgas, one of the most illustrious men in Alabama's Hall of Fame, came along a couple of generations later. General Gorgas was a well-known doctor even before he made medical history in Cuba and Panama. When malaria and yellow fever struck thousands of men trying to build the canal, Gorgas went to work. He wiped-out scores of breeding grounds for mosquitoes, carriers of the deadly fevers. Years later Gorgas of age in time for your Space Age visit.

His wife selected choice items of 17th, 18th and 19th century silver while they lived in Central and South America. This unique Spanish style is well as the rest of the field.

When motorizing to the mansion, drive to Tuscaloosa and then to the center of the University Campus. Gorgas Home is a significant Alabama landmark which has fully come served as U. S. Surgeon General during World War I.

Helicopter Crash Kills Two Flyers

A UH-1 helicopter from Ft. Rucker crashed west of Elba last Friday morning, killing both the student pilots. The crash scene was just north of Danley Cross Roads in a corn field owned by Willie R. C. Tilley, of near Opp, said, "I was sitting in the back yard of some friends and saw this big ball of fire and heard the explosion but at first I didn't know it was an airplane."

Officials at the Army Aviation Center identified the two warrant officer candidates as James W. Conner, age 23, son of Brig. General and Mrs. William M. Conner and Louis A. Brooks, Jr., husband of Mrs. Jean Lynch Brooks, Newcastle, Delaware. They would have graduated on July 19th.

An investigation is under way to determine the cause of the accident, but nothing had been released late Tuesday, according to officials at the information center at Fort Rucker.

ALL OUR CATS are gone. We had accumulated more than a half dozen at one time counting the four baby ones. The mama cat left it up to us after she had gotten the four babies up to several weeks old and we never saw her again, but she had kept the little kittens hidden in the barn so long that they were sorta raggy looking and three of them died. One that had adopted us for his home that we called Tiger and was a beautiful started courting and left for good after being real faithful to us for nearly a year. That left three, one we called Sylvester, a beautiful black and white cat, he had adopted us at the Florida News office when a kitten. He came in with the first one to arrive each morning. He would worry customers so we would get him out the back door and he would run around the end of the block, sit down at the end of the block and wait for us to come. Finally we decided he was here to stay and we put in a sand box and left him in the building at night, but that soon got old and I carried him home with me. He sat on the back steps until he got sorta used to us but he never attempted to leave. All of a sudden the three cats we had left stopped eating which was very unusual. They all died within a week's time. All had been apparently extremely healthy cats and so far as we know Sylvester had never left the back yard except to follow us onto the home and on into the pasture and mean growl. But always with one or both of us. That continues to be a puzzle as to what happened to our cats. A dog had also adopted us and we couldn't run him away so we started feeding him. He had been several months and was all ways done until in the last presidential election when I split my ticket for the first time. I am not figuring on being a candidate for any office and I am free to say what I please about any party and vote how I please without being punished by some local oaf. I can tell you it is very important to me that cats are still free to vote as they see fit.

POLITICS is already getting warmed up for the general election this fall. This newspaper has had a number of politicians in recently, both Democrats and Republicans. I have an idea I will be splitting my ticket all over the place this fall. Unless things develop more to my opinion I will not be voting a straight Democrat ticket as I have always done until in the last presidential election when I split my ticket for the first time. I am not figuring on being a candidate for any office and I am free to say what I please about any party and vote how I please without being punished by some local oaf. I can tell you it is very important to me that cats are still free to vote as they see fit.

I have used our newspapers to support certain candidates in the past but I have an idea I am cured forever from that. When you support a certain candidate or a certain party and they contribute more to a person who even fought them from the beginning to the end does not go with me. The money means nothing but the principle means a lot. I don't forget "principles" and when you lose faith in anyone you're not apt to support that person again knowing full well they cannot be trusted.

A SERVICE we're apt to call to recognize is of the service stations. We're apt to take for granted the wealth of information and materials that are available from them just for the asking. This summer, for example, service stations throughout the country are on the job as friends in need to millions of motorists. Station attendants provide automobile tourists with road and weather conditions. They point out what to see, where to fish, where to hunt, where to eat, where to sleep, various church locations, recreation areas and other points of interest. They provide town-by-town, city-by-city travel information, complete with state and regional maps. And, for the tourist who has stayed or course, or is just plain lost, the station attendant can often offer rerouting suggestions taking the traveler back toward his planned destination with perhaps a few added side attractions.

Service stations are top-notch, coast-to-coast travel guides for the American tourist. And it's all just for the asking.

CARD OF THANKS
Thanks to everyone who remembered me in so many nice ways during my illness and stay in the Elba General Hospital and in Saint Margaret's Hospital in Montgomery.

Every visit, every card and letter, and all the beautiful flowers were so deeply appreciated. I want to thank all those in a special way who prayed for me and I can assure you that your prayers were answered. I love you all and I pray that God will bless each of you.

would never get attached to a pig again. But already I have three puppies and I'm trying again. Mack declared he is not going to let himself get to enjoying them because of having to be upset when something happens to them. They are only four weeks old but follow me all over the place. I do not plan to keep all three but right now I am really enjoying them. I call them the "Three Bears" because they look like little bears. Now I have the problem of deciding which one I will keep and the one to give back to the owner.

HARD WORK is probably a good thing for mankind, but there are many people who want very little of the good thing.

POLITICS is already getting warmed up for the general election this fall. This newspaper has had a number of politicians in recently, both Democrats and Republicans.

I have an idea I will be splitting my ticket all over the place this fall. Unless things develop more to my opinion I will not be voting a straight Democrat ticket as I have always done until in the last presidential election when I split my ticket for the first time.

I am not figuring on being a candidate for any office and I am free to say what I please about any party and vote how I please without being punished by some local oaf. I can tell you it is very important to me that cats are still free to vote as they see fit.

I have used our newspapers to support certain candidates in the past but I have an idea I am cured forever from that. When you support a certain candidate or a certain party and they contribute more to a person who even fought them from the beginning to the end does not go with me. The money means nothing but the principle means a lot. I don't forget "principles" and when you lose faith in anyone you're not apt to support that person again knowing full well they cannot be trusted.

A SERVICE we're apt to call to recognize is of the service stations. We're apt to take for granted the wealth of information and materials that are available from them just for the asking. This summer, for example, service stations throughout the country are on the job as friends in need to millions of motorists. Station attendants provide automobile tourists with road and weather conditions. They point out what to see, where to fish, where to hunt, where to eat, where to sleep, various church locations, recreation areas and other points of interest. They provide town-by-town, city-by-city travel information, complete with state and regional maps. And, for the tourist who has stayed or course, or is just plain lost, the station attendant can often offer rerouting suggestions taking the traveler back toward his planned destination with perhaps a few added side attractions.

Service stations are top-notch, coast-to-coast travel guides for the American tourist. And it's all just for the asking.

CARD OF THANKS
Thanks to everyone who remembered me in so many nice ways during my illness and stay in the Elba General Hospital and in Saint Margaret's Hospital in Montgomery.

Every visit, every card and letter, and all the beautiful flowers were so deeply appreciated. I want to thank all those in a special way who prayed for me and I can assure you that your prayers were answered. I love you all and I pray that God will bless each of you.

NURSES ARE APPRECIATED

by: DONNIE MORROW

Miracle! How often each day we either read or hear this word? What is the true meaning? It is defined by Webster as being "an extremely odd, unusual, or unexpected event, thing or accomplishment." How many of us have had the opportunity to witness a miracle? This writer witnessed several very recently while a patient at the Elba General Hospital. In this case, my miracle was always dressed in white. I am speaking of the nurses' aids, laboratory personnel, and the kitchen staff of our fine hospital.

I do not know the number of people employed at our hospital and I don't know all their names, but I do know one thing for a certainty. Each person there, regardless of his position, is a miracle in my eyes. They pop in and out of rooms through all hours of the day and night, for no reason other than to insure the comfort and well-being of the patient. These miracles come in many sizes and shapes and are both male and female, but there is one thing they all have in common. They are undoubtedly very proud of their work. They have not had reason to be proud, I have of them. They are undoubtedly very proud of their work. They have not had reason to be proud, I have of them.

One thing really brings a smile to me in remembering my stay with these wonderful people. It is the picture in my mind of a little nurse making light rounds with a flashlight. I wasn't a very good patient, I suppose, for I thought my first answer was, "No, I sleep too soundly and to be bothered." Then I needed with it.

FARM NEWS

By Tom Casaday, County Extension Chairman

INSECTICIDES
We do not recommend BHC for a control insecticide in Coffee County. I know that a lot of our farmers have been using this insecticide for years, but, actually, as good and even better insecticides are available to control boll weevils, BHC is not recommended because serious problems are developing with residues. Where BHC is used, grass fields are picking it up, and this is certainly not desirable. I want to urge growers to use any one of the other eight recommended insecticides to control boll weevils.

HOG SCHOOL
Dr. Worth Lanier, Extension Veterinarian, and Dr. Thomas High, Extension Animal Husbandman, did an excellent job Tuesday night at the Hog Short-course in Elba. Lanier discussed diseases and High talked about feeding hogs. Forty-three growers attended.

We know that this short-course is helping our growers develop facts and plans for making more money from hogs.

4-H
Dan Presley, our Extension Farm Agent, is concentrating primarily with 4-H Club work. He is selecting boys for the 4-H Forestry Short-course and the 4-H Fish and Wildlife Short-course which will be held in Auburn later in the summer. I believe that six boys will be selected to attend the short-course. 4-H Club work is going to take some giant steps forward in Coffee County under the leadership of Dan Presley and Miss Virginia Sanders, Extension Home Agent.

DROUGHT
The dry weather the past two weeks is certainly going to lower our corn yield. I think that six boys will be selected to attend the short-course. 4-H Club work is going to take some giant steps forward in Coffee County under the leadership of Dan Presley and Miss Virginia Sanders, Extension Home Agent.

FEED CROPS
O. V. Rhoades of the Perry Store Community is high on his praise of Coastal Bermuda grass. Mr. Rhoades planted about 20 acres spring before last, and he is producing large quantities of Coastal Bermuda grass. We believe that our big opportunity and increasing income lies in beef cattle and hog production. Feed production is most important in profitable livestock production. O. V. Rhoades is getting ready to have some fairly inexpensive gains in beef cattle.

FIRE ANT POISON
If you are troubled with fire ants and want to buy some fire ant poison, which is called Mirex, get in touch with me, and we will place your order. Coffee County has a fire ant committee composed of Dupree Martin, Brown Bryars, and Gerald Smith.

MORE SERVICE
Dr. States McCarter, our plant disease specialist at Auburn, made several visits in the county with Dan Presley and me a few days ago. We noticed that leafspot disease is worse this year than in previous years.

CORN CONTEST
If we can get plenty of rain in the next few days, we will probably have some corn growers making the 100-bushel corn club. I know that O. I. Cunningham, the manager of the Enterprise Chamber of Commerce, will be happy to present the prize money to those growers making 100 bushels or more corn on their 10-acre farms. The contest is being sponsored by the Enterprise Chamber of Commerce.

4-H CLUB WORK
I. E. Logue, our state 4-H Club leader, visited

GRADED SALE

This week we wrote about 500 hog producers inviting them to attend the graded hog sale at the Farmers' Livestock Co-op Market in Elba, August 10. We hope to have enough hogs to conduct a good grading demonstration. But, we are mainly interested in having a lot of growers attend this educational event. Perhaps if we have this graded sale for two or three more years, our hog growers can learn more about the most desirable type of hogs to grow. Keep in mind the event, August 10 date for this event.

4-H PROJECTS
Virginia Sanders and Dan Presley, our co-workers, would like to have some more girls enter the Coffee County 4-H calf show. Some have already entered, but this is a good project for girls who enjoy working with beef cattle. If you have a son or daughter interested in feeding a calf for the show and sale next spring, contact some of us at the Extension Office, and we will supply full information.

IMPORTANT JOB: Good land preparation is a must for raising summer grazing crops. Believes J. J. Jones, of Enterprise, Route One. Farm agent, Russell Speed, agrees with Jones.

For rain a great deal more than corn spaced out more. However, in order to average high yields over a period of several years, we must space closer and hope that enough rain will come at the right time to make a good yield. Actually, I think most folks will be willing to accept the long-range high yields rather than long-range low yields which are sometimes associated with wide spacing.

WORKING
Folks sure have been busy last week and this week freezing peas, butterbeans, corn, okra, and other crops. Our farm women plus all members of the family are pitching in to get the food freezer filled.

SILAGE
Roy Sims, one of our top dairymen, is busy this week putting up corn silage. More and more of our dairymen are going to silage production. Crop, silage is an excellent crop for beef growers who plan to raise and carry steers throughout the winter months.

Good Tax Management Aids Farmers
It's not too early for farmers to think about income tax decisions for 1966, says Extension Resource Management Specialist Dan Smith.

"In the long run, good tax management will increase net worth," adds Smith. For farmers who expect a higher farm income than usual this year, the Auburn University specialist suggests buying needed machinery now instead of waiting until fall. This will enable them to deduct more for depreciation this year.

"But don't buy unneeded machinery for tax purposes," he warns. Another tax deduction that farmers can figure on is expenses for soil and water conservation. Smith points out that expenses for terracing, building waterways and earthen dams, and clearing brush from pasture lands may be deducted as conservation expenses.

In 1942 Alabama became the first state in the nation to certify tree farms. In this silver anniversary year Alabama has 2,521 tree farms covering 6,994,049 acres.

The general, who recently returned from Vietnam where he commanded the 173rd Airborne, said, "I came to give you the viewpoint of the Army observer in Vietnam."

Discussing the importance of securing objectives, he said, "I don't care if you fly a helicopter upside down as long as you achieve the purpose of the mission and get the job done."

He concluded, "I'm optimistic about the outcome in Vietnam. Every battalion size or bigger unit we encountered while I was in Vietnam was destroyed. Things are going well and should get better."

General Williamson was introduced by Major General John J. Tolson, Fort Rucker commander.

FARM NEWS

By Tom Casaday, County Extension Chairman

INSECTICIDES
We do not recommend BHC as a cotton insecticide in Coffee County. I know that a lot of our farmers have been using this insecticide for years, but, actually, as good and better insecticides are available to control boll weevils, BHC is not recommended because serious problems are developing with residues. Where BHC is used, grass fields are picking it up, and this is certainly not desirable. I want to urge growers to use any one of the eight recommended insecticides to control boll weevils.

GRADED SALE
This week we wrote about 500 hog producers inviting them to attend the graded hog sale at the Farmers' Livestock Co-op Market in Elba, August 10. We hope to have enough hogs to conduct a good grading demonstration. But we are mainly interested in having a lot of growers attend this educational event. Perhaps if we have this graded sale for two or three more years, our hog show, some have already entered, but this is a good project for girls who enjoy working with beef cattle. If you have a son or a daughter interested in feeding a calf for the show and sale next spring, contact some of us at the County Extension Office, which will supply full information.

4-H PROJECTS
Virginia Sanders and Dan Presley, our Extension Veterinarian, and Dr. Thomas High, Extension Animal Husbandman, did an excellent job Tuesday night at the Hog Short-course in Elba. Lanier discussed diseases and high talking about feeding hogs. Forty-three growers attended.

We know that this short-course is helping our growers develop facts and plans for making more money from hogs.

4-H
Dan Presley, our Extension Farm Agent who is concentrating primarily with 4-H Club work, is selecting boys to attend the 4-H Forestry Short-course and the 4-H Fish and Wildlife Short-course which will be held in Auburn later in the summer.

I believe that six boys will be selected to attend this short-course. 4-H Club work is going to take some giant steps forward in Coffee County under the leadership of Dan Presley and Miss Virginia Sanders, Extension Home Agent.

DROUGHT
The dry weather the past two weeks is certainly going to lower our corn yield. I believe that six boys will be selected to attend this short-course. 4-H Club work is going to take some giant steps forward in Coffee County under the leadership of Dan Presley and Miss Virginia Sanders, Extension Home Agent.

Good Tax Management
Aids Farmers
It's not too early for farmers to think about income tax decisions for 1966, says Extension Resource Management Specialist Dan Smith.
"In the long run, good tax management will increase net worth," adds Smith.
For farmers who expect a higher farm income than usual this year, the Auburn University specialist says buying needed machinery now instead of waiting until fall. This will enable them to deduct more for depreciation this year.
"But don't buy unneeded machinery for tax purposes," he warns.
Another tax deduction that farmers can figure on is expenses for soil and water conservation. Smith points out that expenses for terracing, building dams, and clearing brush from pasture lands may be deducted as conservation expenses.
In 1942 Alabama became the first state in the nation to certify farm farms. In this special anniversary year Alabama has 2,521 acre farms covering 6,894,049 acres.

CORN CONTEST
If we can get plenty of rain in the next few days, we will probably have some corn growers making the 100-bushel corn club.
I know that O. L. Cunningham, the manager of the Enterprise Chamber of Commerce, will be happy to present the prize money to those growers making 100 bushels or more corn on their 10-acre farms. The contest is being sponsored by the Enterprise Chamber of Commerce.

for rain a great deal more than corn spaced out wide. However, in order to average high yields over a period of several years, we must space closer and hope that enough rain will come at the right time. To make a good yield. Actually, I think most folks will be willing to accept the long-range high yields rather than long-range low yields which are sometimes associated with wide spacing.

FEED CROPS
O. V. Rhoades of the Perry Store community is high on his praise of Coastal Bermuda grass. Mr. Rhoades planted about 20 acres spring before last, and he is producing large tons of Coastal Bermuda grass.

SILAGE
Roy Sims, one of our top dairymen, is busy this week putting up corn silage. More and more of our dairymen are going to silage production. In fact, silage is an excellent crop for beef growers who plan to graze and carry steers throughout the winter months.

For farmers who expect a higher farm income than usual this year, the Auburn University specialist says buying needed machinery now instead of waiting until fall. This will enable them to deduct more for depreciation this year.
"But don't buy unneeded machinery for tax purposes," he warns.
Another tax deduction that farmers can figure on is expenses for soil and water conservation. Smith points out that expenses for terracing, building dams, and clearing brush from pasture lands may be deducted as conservation expenses.
In 1942 Alabama became the first state in the nation to certify farm farms. In this special anniversary year Alabama has 2,521 acre farms covering 6,894,049 acres.

It's not too early for farmers to think about income tax decisions for 1966, says Extension Resource Management Specialist Dan Smith.
"In the long run, good tax management will increase net worth," adds Smith.
